“In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to God.” -Matthew 5:16

Into everyone's life is a ray of sun light that beams through. The glow is so bright that even in the darkest hours it stands out like a candle in the darkest night. This ray of sunlight best describes Carlie Mae Jones.

She began her earthly journey in Union Springs, Alabama on May 31, 1929 to the union of the late Ward and Pearlie Mae Mack. Carlie received her early educational experiences in the city of her birth. She met, fell in love and was united in holy matrimony to the late Clyde Jones. With this act, thus proclaiming her undying love and commitment. This union was fruitfully blessed with eight children. Jimmy Clyde and Doris Lee Jones preceded her in death.

Though her health challenges prevented her from attending service in recent years. She found solace in worshipping at New Life Covenant Church under the leadership of Bishop Douglas Hunter.

Just to mention a few of Carlie's attributes: She was the epitome of Proverbs

31: "The Virtuous Woman" mild mannered, soft spoken, exceptional cook, meticulous homemaker, fervent smile, generous to a fault, sweet and kind spirit. "The Matriarch" one of whom love and family was her allegiance...she continued to be the hand that rocked the cradle of countless children. The joys and pleasures of her life was the unconditional love and devotion that was shared with her family. She will be greatly missed by those who love and knew her best.
