

Clarence Wheeler, Jr.

May 22, 1962 - October 31, 2025

Clarence Wheeler was born on May 22, 1962, in Orlando, Florida, to the late Clarence Wheeler, Sr. and Bertha Wheeler. He was raised in a loving and supportive family in the Crosstown Community. Clarence attended the historic Jones High School, proudly graduating with the Class of 1980. Throughout his life, he enjoyed playing basketball and spending time with his family, always cherishing the moments shared with those he loved. In 2021, Clarence fulfilled a personal dream by establishing his own business, Clarence Wheeler Commercial and Residential Pressure Washing, LLC. His dedication, work ethic, and warm spirit touched many lives and will be fondly remembered.

Clarence is preceded in death by his father, Clarence Wheeler Sr.; his grandmothers, Sallie Maxwell Brown and Colellia O. Jordan; and his grandfather, Joe T. Jordan.

Clarence leaves to cherish is survived by his brothers Frankie D. Wheeler, Carlton R. Wheeler, James A. Wheeler; sisters Lasander Wheeler, Brenda L. Wheeler, a close niece Laquetta Wheeler; his children Nicola Wheeler, Clarence Wheeler III, Shawntil Wheeler, Ashley Wheeler, and Clarence Wheeler IV; along with many extended family members, grandchildren, and friends. Although his time with us was brief, his memory will be cherished forever.

“ Clarence, I'm reflecting back to a few months ago when I was having work done on my driveway. You were so curious about the coating project—you mentioned wanting to get into the business yourself. Such an entrepreneur you are. Your determination to work for yourself, to learn, and to master every skill was truly inspiring. That entrepreneurial spirit clearly trickled down to your children. And who could forget that infectious laugh, you called "MO"? You will be truly missed. Rest well my friend, Cynthia Moore

TH

Hello, Sorry to hear this news, I used him over the years for all my detailing work at Camping World. I had been trying to call him, so I googled it and this came up. Sorry to hear, he was a good friend of mine.
