“ Nothing in life can prepare us for the death of a loved one. Whether death results from a sudden accident or a sustained illness, it always catches us off guard, With every demise, there is a loss and with every loss, there will be grief. As a family we all will grieve together and know that God is on our side during this most difficult time and always. So to the Ragin Family remember John 16:22
So with you: Now is your time of grief, but I will see you again and you will rejoice and no one will take away your joy!

Love,
Betty Jean

“ Elder found a virtuous woman, whom we all loved so much, we are broken but I know Mother Ragin would tell us all to stop crying and look to the Hills and that's what we all have to do. Angela

“ My condolence goes out to the family at this time of bereavement. The passing of love ones without-a-doubt is the most traumatic emotional experience an individual or a family will has to endure. However, it is how the family of the decedent rally around one another, with love and support that will ultimately has the potential of softening the impact of their death. Hence, I pray God of the Universe intervenes with His Grace to strengthen this family and everyone that loves this Beloved mother, wife, aunt and daughter. May you rest in power Diane Helen Ragin and may God bless your soul.

“ To the family from the Wilkerson family and the holiday family and the Johnson family we are going to miss mother Ragin so much she was a sweet person.what I'm going to miss the most is when i walk in church she is the first face i see when i walk in and i would walk up to her and give her a huge and then i would act like I'm going to pinch her and the first thing she would say is I'm going to call your momma and tell her you pinch me.and we would just laugh.im going to miss that so much because she was just like another mom to me and i 💙 her dearly Rest mother Ragin God has a better plan for you now.yours truly Alice Johnson
