“ Elaine I was shocked to hear the news of your passing. Even though we were not "blood sisters" you will ALWAYS be my Sister in Law and we go back MANY years from Brooklyn to Orlando. I motivated you to moved to Orlando, I remember helping you to get Melanie & Justin registered for school in Orange County, we shared many cookouts & dinners together watching our children grow into the adults they are now. I thank you for ALL you did for me especially when I had complications with my last pregnancy, your phone calls during my recent surgery, and for your love and understanding thru the years. I still remember our last lunch date at Cheddars where we laughed and talked about the years gone by - good memories! Your presence will be missed here on Earth but we know that we will see each other again "on the other side". You can rest easy now - no more pain and suffering - in the arms of our Lord and Savior. Take care my Dear Sister until we meet again. Endless Love Always, Yvonne, Carlos, Nana, Kataya and Kareem McDonald

“ Haven't been able to build up the courage to come up here and say anything because I refuse to believe this is real.. From the moment I met you in 2015, to our last days this December 2020 you've been nothing but the best to me. Since day 1, anytime I needed someone to talk to you were there.. All the laughter, the tears, the shopping and our private dinner dates at your favorite Mexican spot, I'll forever cherish those memories. No matter what we did together, we did it with laughter, gossip and overall a crazy strong bond. Everything I learned from you will stick with me forever, and all the promises I made you I'll keep.. 😔 you weren't a blood relative but no one has ever made me feel so at home and like family. 💔💔💔 hard pill to swallow Nana, but nonetheless, I love you 🎸👤 And Prince will always have a piece of you with him. RIP my love & until we meet again 🙌💕💕

“ You became like a second mom to me as well as my best friend and confidant. You were like a grandmother and a great-grandmother to my family. We love you and miss you more than words and tears can express. We packed 20 years of memories into these last 5 years and filled them with jokes, laughter, gossip and everything in between. I will treasure those memories forever. I refuse to believe you're gone. You're healthy, laughing, smiling, flirting and telling dirty jokes on a beach somewhere in the sunshine. ☀️ Your laughing at the shocked expressions on peoples faces and you're enjoying every minute of it. 🤔 That is where I will keep you... there and in my heart forever. ❤️ I love & miss you Momma Winn. 💔😭
