“ To Garfield's family and loved ones,

I knew Garfield was someone special the first time he contacted me as his advisor at Keiser University. His warmth, energy, sincerity, and passion for life came through his voice and expressions. Later I had the pleasure to spend time with him on campus and saw his lovely spirit and genuine efforts to do well in action. His academic papers and online posts left an indelible impression on me as they conveyed his sincerity, intelligence, idealism, and respect for equality and human rights.

I was deeply saddened to hear of his passing - this is a loss, not only for the school community, but also for the nursing profession.

I hope you find solace in his memory and joy in having shared his life.

My deepest condolences,

Mary

“ Garfield I'll miss your texts letting me know what power plans I need to update. Your morning Facebook posts touting which body part was getting worked on at the gym 💪 . And your smile which lit up the room whenever I saw you.
The world won't have you as an Arnp but I promise to honor your memory by bringing the best to my patients like you would ❤️

“ My dearest Garfield. I still cannot come to grips with the fact that you are gone now. You will never be forgotten. I still recall the first time we met, you were so charismatic!! Your smile and constant perseverance is what I will miss most. Most days, I couldn't wait to get to work because I knew if you were there the day would be spent laughing. A ray of sunshine. Always so caring and giving, you are truly an Angel. I miss you already. Sincerely, Anaida
