“ You didn't birth me and blood didn't make us family, but when you married my mom you not only made her the happiest woman, but you made our entire family happy, the love that you showed was always genuine and unconditional, you never treated me any different than you did your own girls, you loved me and I loved you back. I wish I could have had more time with you, but God needed you more, as much as it hurts, you will forever be with me, you truly were an amazing man and I am going to always remember the fun times even blaming you for everything and watching mom get mad because she was a perfectionist and we would sit back and crack up laughing, I'm going to miss our game nights and how you would get mad because I would always win and when you or mom won we all know you guys cheated lol. I love you George and I wish I could tell you over and over. Rest easy, you will forever be in my heart and your memory will never die. I love you!!!!
