Gerald Martin Powell was born on May 3, 1943 to Gilbert and Demetrius Powell, in George's Valley Manchester, Jamaica. He attended George's Valley All Age School and later Upholstery Trade School. On successfully completing training, he took a position as a furniture upholsterer as a means of supporting his family, which by then included a son Ricky and a daughter Petronia, and later another son RoxRoy. He immigrated to the United States in 1980 and settled in Connecticut. He later moved to Boston, Massachusetts, where he lived with The Francis family, his cousins.

Brother Powell, as he was affectionately called by family and friends, started attending the Berea Seventh-day Adventist (SDA) church, where he met his lovely wife Joyce Genus. They both said it was "love at first sight" and on October 7th, 1984 they were married at Boston Temple SDA. In 1985 their first daughter Anne Marie, was born, and in 1987 they were again blessed with another beautiful baby girl, Stacey. The Powell's began attending the Cambridge Seventh-day Adventist Church where Brother Powell held many prominent positions, including elder. He was instrumental in helping the Cambridge body of worshippers secure their first church building. In 1999 the Powell family joined Roxbury Mission, which was renamed The Waymark SDA in 2007 and there, continued to worship and faithfully serve, until leaving Massachusetts for retirement, in Florida, in 2016. Bro. P has a God-given gift, no doubt, which he in turn used to the glory of God. He would invite many families to the Seventh-Day Adventist church to have their babies dedicated. He also brought family members to a knowledge of Christ, even to the point of baptism, as the family reminisced recently; "If it was not for Bro P, I would not have come to know the truth in the Bible". Prior to leaving for Florida, Brother Powell also volunteered as custodian for the church, another act of selflessness. And, as his final vocation in Massachusetts he transported the children to and from the Tender Heart Day Care. In Florida, the Powell's became members of Patmos Chapel.

Best described as a dedicated Servant of God, here was a man who met the challenge of each position to which he was called, with equal amount of commitment and devotion. It was his love of God, and for man, that was evident in his words and actions. As Elder, he demonstrated that he had a keen knowledge of the doctrines of the church, as Deacon, he was delighted to assist others as Pathfinder Director, he provided responsible leadership to the youth. In fact, a family of four young adults who became Pathfinders under his tutelage, expressed profound sadness at his passing, such is his lasting influence.

Always with a smile on his face, Brother Powell was able to strike a unique balance between the seriousness of his many church positions and the need to make others laugh.

He did not miss an opportunity to tell a joke, even if the joke was on him. Who can forget his colorful children's stories, but moreover, who can forget the look of deep interest on the children's faces as he told the stories of his days growing up in Jamaica, complete with props and actions? He played a number of different instruments and all were self-taught. He could often be found alone in the sanctuary practicing for an upcoming concert, where his guitar or mouth organ renditions would be one of the most anticipated performances of the event.

Anyone who knew Brother Powell in his youth, would describe him as fearless. Had it not been for the mercy of God, Brother Powell may not have even made it to the United States. As a young child, he fell into a hole and was in danger of suffocating before he was plucked to safety. There was also the time he fell head first into a tank of water and was in danger of drowning before he was gallantly rescued. As a young man, he apparently was hit by cars a number of times, as he maneuvered through the busy streets of Jamaica on his bicycle. The word that one would use to describe him as an adult was industrious – he taught himself to play the many instruments that he played and at one point, he offered to teach others as well. He was good at farming, painting, photography, videography, tailoring and even tried and successfully mastered crocheting.

Everyone who ever met and knew Brother Powell will miss this soft-spoken ambassador for God. His wife Joyce Powell will miss a loving husband, his sisters Lucille Ferguson, Olive Mae Blake, Geneva Nosworthy and brother, James Powell, will miss their supportive sibling. His children, Claudette Daley, Eric Powell, Marcia Foster-Bennett, Petronia Powell, Roxroy Powell, Vaughna Genus, Andrea Williams, Anne Marie Sinclair and Stacey Powell will miss their dearest dad. His 16 grandchildren, 3 great-grands, nieces, nephews, cousins and numerous friends will miss his jovial presence. His church family will miss the man they called Elder Powell, for the example he set and the life he lived.

Death may have separated us from the God of life for a while, but we know that Jesus defeated death. If we are faithful, we will see Elder Powell again and so today we look forward to the resurrection and to living together forever

so, come Lord Jesus. Amen

“ You are one of the sweetest soul I've ever met, those smiles, kind words, gracious hands... Sleep on dear friend! Rest in the arms of The Creator! To my cousin Joyce, God is with you thru this turbulent time! Trust God and live! From Angela and Jeffreen. We hope to see you soon!

“ *In Desire of Ages, p. 787, Ellen Whites says:
To the believer, death is but a small matter. Christ speaks of it as if it were of little moment. “If a man keep My saying, he shall never see death,” “he shall never taste of death.” To the Christian, death is but a sleep, a moment of silence and darkness. The life is hid with Christ in God, and “when Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with Him in glory.” John 8:51, 52; Colossians 3:4*

“ Our hearts are saddened of the passing of Bro Powell. He was a kind and faithful man of God. He used to pick up my daughter and others on Sunday mornings to go to pathfinder meetings. I was always impressed with him playing the guitar and it inspired me to start playing. He, Bro Libert and Bro Brewster rendered beautiful mouth organ (Harmonica) music at church. Not to mention his story telling. He told one of how you mix the sugar and water drink we called “brebridge” (beverage) He said , you put the sugar in your mouth, add some water and then jump up and down! Yes, he is gone but not forgotten. Sleep in peace Bro. Powell. From Paulette Price, William Price and Alvona Whyte.

“I am deeply saddened by Bro P’s death; he is greatly missed. Vacations will not be the same. But, I pray that amidst our sad times We can reflect on his kind demeanor and loving attitude he had o everyone. Let’s hold on to the promising words he said to me. He told me one day when I talking to him that he feels as if he is traveling, “but, I do not know where I am going”I said, “Bro. P, it’s ok, the next voice you will hear is Jesus, saying well done” and he said, “yes” and he finished the Bible text, “well done thou good and faithful servant, you have been faithful over a few things I will make you ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of your Lord. So, I leaned closer to him and said absolutely. So, my dear family Let us all endeavor to be there to see brother Powell on that glorious day..

“ Elder Powell is asleep for now until Our Saviour comes bursting through the clouds. Bro Powell , a remarkable, funny, jovial, musical and loving man will continue to be in my heart and the warm memories of walking up the street in Dorchester and just sitting and chatting with him while he worked in the garage or in his garden will forever be in my heart. Rest on Bro P and Sis P be encouraged and comforted and know that God is loving carrying you in His arms.
