“ Hi nana,

Just doing my check in. This time it's a little different. Mommy is with you now. I know you guys are enjoying the reunion. I miss her and love her so much and in another life we would have had more time together. I want you guys to watch over me and visit me often, I told mom to visit me as a butterfly. I need you guys to come visit me in my dreams so I can hear and see your voices and face. Mommy misses me, so keep her busy until she gets the hang of it and can visit me on her own. I hope to see you guys again in Heaven when God is ready for me until then i'll mourn you both until the end of time.

I will always treasure your surprise visits to me at the school in Florida and our conversations about how much you and my grandmother, Birdie looked alike. May you have a wonderful transition to the spirit world and give them all my love.

“ My condolences to Marcia and family; feel comforted that Hortense lived a very long and fulfilled life, and she leave behind a legacy of love and friendship to family and friends who loved her. She will live in all our hearts for a long time.

Hortense,
Thoughts of you will always bring a smile to my face. We met more than twelve years ago and since then every visit was filled with your rich personal stories of your childhood and growing up in Kingston, Jamaica. Like your mother you instilled strong discipline and good values which you expected from others. Values which to some might be a bit outmoded, but really is not. Behind that critical gaze and sometimes biting words, beats a kind and caring heart. Now you have earned your rest, after years of hard work in Jamaica, and in New York City. Now you can have that longed-for joyous reunion with your mother and grandmother you spoke of with such passion and love. It was a pleasure knowing you.

“ I will always remember "Ms. Hortie" as we so affectionately called her. I will always treasure the love and support that she provided me during my pregnancy. When it was time to select a godmother for my son, the only option was my dear Ms Hortie and I'm pleased to say the blessing she was in my life was also bestowed upon my son. God bless you eternally. Rest in peace.

“ The memories of my beloved Aunt Hortense/Aunty Horty are vivid in my mind. Her annual trip from New York to visit my mother in her home community Belvedere Westmoreland Jamaica was the highlight of our summer vacation. Tho we new how miserable she could get when she felt less than in charge of all situations...we also knew how much she loved and cared for all of us. She would give you the tightest hug and squeeze that made you feel so special and slap you straight with those same firm hands all in one stride. My aunty loved to shop and I loved to receive, so as a child we were the perfect duo. As I grew older, I grew to appreciate the forthrightness with which she spoke. She did not have a pretentious bone in her body. If Aunty was happy with you she gladly informed you with the exact same zeal as she would when the situation was reversed. She spoke her mind either way ...and we learned quickly with no apologies. I admired her strength and will power; her undying love for her family. She loved my mom with all her heart and played a significant role in making her the strong woman she was. Tho it breaks my heart to see her go. ..her beloved is in heaven waiting to receive her...together I know they will keep guard over me...but still it's hard to say that final goodbye. ..since I mustI bid you fairwell and thank you for the role you played in making my sister and I the strong women we are today. You know we love you...told you everytime we met...the chapter has ended...the curtain drawn...your time on the stage of life has come to an end. We knew we were on borrowed time. ..but it still hurts...sleep well mi Aunty...sleep well ...'til we meet again. R.I.P
