

Ms. Jamilah Lasharn Johnson

July 20, 1980 - December 28, 2017

Jamilah Lasharn Johnson was born July 20, 1980 to, Patricia Ward and Elder Rickey Johnson. Jamilah's early years were spent in Orlando and Oakland, Florida where she attended Trinity Missionary Baptist Church. She attended both Evans and Edgewater High School and completed her studies at Schenck Job Corp, in Pisgah Forest, North Carolina.

Though she excelled as a trained carpenter, Jamilah's passion was in culinary arts. Being a food lover and talented cook, she worked in the food industry while pursuing a career as a chef. She even went on to open her own meal prep business and endeavored to operate a food truck one day. In addition to this, Jamilah had aspirations of traveling to teach English abroad.

After being diagnosed with Lupus in 2012 she moved to Georgia, where the variations in weather allowed her to find balance with her symptoms. She blossomed in this new place, making friends everywhere she went. Even after being diagnosed with cancer in 2017, she kept right on smiling; not allowing cancer to break her stride or steal her zeal for life. Jamilah was joy to be around, a proverbial ray of sunshine. She made an impact on every person she came in contact with. To know her was to love her.

On the morning of December 28, 2017, Jamilah Johnson was called to "rest in peace". Her transition was a personal loss to her family and friends and she'll be greatly missed by them all. She'll be remembered most for the brightness of her smile and her warm spirit.

Jamilah was preceded in death by her grandparents, Christine and Willie Ward, Tom and Blanche Johnson and brother Eric Massey.

Jamilah Johnson leaves to cherish: parents, Patricia Ward and Elder Rickey Johnson; siblings, Jennifer Bellinger, Elizabeth Bellinger, Amanda Johnson-Clinckscales (Sharia), Jasmine Robinson, Helenia Tribbey, and Michelle Andino; life partner, Jillian Carter-Ford and a host of loving aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.
