Jason Lee McCullough was born June 5, 1993, in Kissimmee, Florida, to Lenny Lee McCullough and Michaela Dorn. He graduated from Osceola High School in Kissimmee, Florida. He continued his education at Full Sail University, where he graduated with a degree in Music.

At an early age, Jason grew up with many of his cousins. He always loved to play cards, rap and especially loved and enjoyed family time. Jason was the one that did the craziest things because he loved to see and make people laugh. He especially adored his “Pop” and always wanted to make him proud of him. They had such a special bond that everyone would praise them. Jason adored his three kids and fiancé, he worked very hard to care for them.

Jason was a musician, a writer, a cook and family man. Jason focused his interest on being a major rap artist, in which he loved to perform. Jason worked at the Hard Rock as a Head Cook before his departure.

The Lord, in His infinite wisdom, deemed it timely on July 21, 2023, to call our beloved Jason to his eternal resting place. His departure is a deep and personal loss to his family and friends and he will be greatly missed by them all.

Jason leaves to cherish precious memories to: his three kids, Zachary Logan Sanchez of New York, Milliana Lee McCullough, and Alaiya Shay McCullough both of Orlando, Florida; fiancé: Ashley Wilson; mother: Michaela Dorn of Orlando, Florida; father: Lenny L. McCullough of Orlando, Florida and stepmother: Kari McCullough; brothers: Joshua Ian Hayes and Allen Dorn, both of Kissimmee, Florida; step-brothers: Elias Garcia; two grandmothers: Patricia McCullough and Petra Eady; grandfather, Michael Eady; aunts; uncles; cousins; a host of other relatives and sorrowing friends.
