“ I had the extreme pleasure of working with Kheilani. Yes was a dynamic and inspiring educator working with incarcerated females. Always ready to assist and successful working with the facility to the betterment of these girls. Collaborating with the core group of teachers at the facility, The highlight was getting the girls to publish poems and short stories that yes became a published book. Kheilani will be missed and highly loved. She is safe, accomplished and in the palm of God.
