

Leala Mae Ingram

December 22, 1930 - November 6, 2014

The Journey of the life of Leala Mae Mount Ingram began with Mary Chappell and Moses Mount on December 22, 1930 in Tuskegee, Alabama. The journey was not always easy, there were many stumbles and falls but she seemed to keep getting up and pushing on. Leala attended Phyllis Wheatley, Jones High School and Hungerford High School. When Leala was work age she surrendered her services to foliage nurseries, factories, the nursing field, and lastly to Orange County School Board.

Leala attended St. Paul A.M.E. Church in her earlier years where she served on the Usher Board and sang in the Choir. Leala also attended Freedom Ministries for a long period of time until her health began to decline. She found a new church home at St. Luke F.G. B.C. of Zellwood, Florida along with her two daughters Betty and Carolyn until she was unable to attend. Leala continued to read her bible for guidance and hope as well as for peace and understanding.

Throughout her journey she bared seven children whom she loved dearly, she would pray that the Lord keep and guide her children down the right path in life, her children was her life. After knowing that all her children was taken care of and sheltered, she grew tired and with weariness she closed her eyes to her final rest on November 6, 2014. The journey came to an end, to God be the Glory.

Leala was preceded in death by her mother, Mary Chappell Mitchell, father Moses Mount, two aunts, Fannie Chappell and Emma Lawson, three grandchildren, Jermayne Ingram, Bobby Mott, Jr. and JoAnn Ingram.

She leaves to cherish precious memories: two daughters, Betty and Carolyn Ingram both of Plymouth, Florida; five sons, Bobby Mott of Orlando, Florida, Willie Freeman (Patricia), Harold Ingram (Joann), all of Apopka, Florida, Jesse Ingram of Plymouth, Florida, Winston Ingram (Debra) of Jacksonville, Florida; nineteen grandchildren; a host of great and great, great grandchildren and friends.
