Leroy Brown was born on August 27, 1933, in Belle Glade, Florida. He was the only child of his father, Albert Williams, and mother, Sylvia Williams, of Apopka, Florida.

After high school, Leroy went on to attend barber college in Texas in 1957. Then he moved to New York. There, he became employed at Bell Security, Inc. for three years. It was while living in New York that he met his wife, Mavis Francis. The two became one and got married in 1979.

He joined the United States Army at a young age, and served his country proudly during the Korean War. He was honorably discharged and returned to civilian life.

In 1998, Leroy and his wife, Mavis, moved back to Florida. He then became employed at the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for four years. He also worked with the Department of Transportation for five years as a School Crossing Guard.

Leroy's Christian Faith and love for his God were the essence of his being. His life has been characterized by hard work, a devotion to his Maker, and his family.
