

Lizzie Mae Wright

August 8, 1950 - May 24, 2025

Lizzie Mae Wright was born to Ulysses and Ola Mae Wright on August 08, 1950, in Screamer, Alabama. She was relentless, a hard worker who showed up early, stayed late, and never made excuses. However, she built a rich and meaningful life through hard work and quiet strength. She asked for little and gave much. Lizzie was a woman who found strength in simplicity. She was a woman who appreciated solitude, often choosing the calm of her own space over the noise of the world. One of her greatest joys was cooking and baking; her meals were made with care and often became the center of love and laughter. She had a special bond with her godson, Tyrone, and her great niece, Tehya, pouring love and laughter into their lives. They were the lights of her life, and her impact on them will be felt for generations.

Lizzie was preceded in death by her parents, Ulysses and Ola Mae Wright; sisters, Rosie Wright and Mary Ella Marshall; and brother, Jessie Wright.

She leaves to celebrate her life: her Sisters, Virgil Mae Williams, Para Bowers (Edaniel), and Annie Granger (Timothy); Godson, Tyrone Perry II, and a host of nieces, nephews, and cousins.
