

Nathaniel "NAY BOY" Clark

August 4, 1951 - January 22, 2026

Nathaniel "Nay Boy" Clark was born on August 4, 1951, to the late John Henry Clark and Clantha Brown Clark. He was the seventh of nine siblings and was raised in Orlando, Florida, where he attended the Illustrious Jones High School and was a proud alumnus.

In 1992, Nathaniel met his wife, Debbie. He welcomed his only biological son, Devyn, in 1993 and proudly embraced the role of father figure to Debbie's children, Latoya and Stephanie. The couple officially married in 1999. He was known as a devoted family man who always made it a priority to care for those he loved.

After working for the Orlando Sentinel and Orange County Public Schools for several years, Nathaniel founded Steamway Carpet Cleaning in 1999, building a successful business by securing contracts throughout Central Florida. His work was not only a source of pride, but also a way to support others, as he employed many friends and family members along the way and created a lasting legacy by passing the business down to his son.

Nathaniel was hardworking, dedicated, and loved having a good time. If you spent more than thirty minutes with him, you could expect a good laugh — usually at your own expense.

Nathaniel leaves to cherish his memory: his wife of over 25 years, Debbie Clark of Orlando, Florida; children, Latoya May (Kerrick), Stephanie Burke (Angel), and Devyn Clark, all of Orlando, Florida; and four grandchildren, Chelsea, Kerrick, Alijah, and Izaiah. He is also survived by: his brothers, Apostle John Clark, Jr. (Annie) and William Clark (Annie); sisters, Essie Abrams (Willie) and Clantha Clark; and a host of nieces, nephews, extended family members, and close friends.
