“Mrs. Ollie Mae Childers is my mother-in-law. I am currently married to her youngest son, John. Although I have not had the privilege and honor of being in her presence and getting to know her as well as I would have liked, it is obvious that she is, was, and will forever be God's servant and she touched the lives of many around her. She was a beautiful soul in life and even more so in death. She is truly an angel of God. I can remember the times we did visit her. She always had this beautiful smile on her face, and a great sense of humor. She won you over with her kind and gentle spirit; as well as her kind words. She truly was a mother to all she encountered. So mom, as you make your journey to your final and everlasting home, I say to you, what you have said to me every time I visited you "Awww, shuckety, shuck, shuck!" Those words have often come to my mind and put a smile on my face and I'm certain they will continue to do so in the future. I love you!

“ She was indeed a prayer warrior and the fondation has been set for generations that follows. The torch has been past as her spirit is so strongly evident in her family. She fought the good fight, finish the course and kept the faith. For the race is not given to the swift nor the strong, but to him that endureth til the end. She endured and was a powerful woman of God that leaves behind a legacy that reflects the power of prayer. Well done Mother Ollie Mae Childers and Welcome Home.
