“ Sadie was a part of my family. As a child, her brother’s home was directly across from ours. We were always in each other’s home. She was a part of my brother’s life ... he actually made her his life. He left her in Jamaica but after many years, they got together again at his home in New Jersey. They got married and so she became a resident of the USA along with her children. My beloved brother past many years ago but am sure he would have wanted his name to be remembered at her funeral. He cared for her, even after she left him ... his name is ERIC BARDOWELL. I am his sister Ann and I have not forgotten. Now I feel like I have closure.

“ My angel. You are so incredibly missed. Losing you has been so hard. Knowing you are in heaven and pain free is the only thing holding us together. We continue to show pictures of you to your great-granddaughters and they always say “GG is home” that you are. Home with God. We love you, forever.
