“ It didnt take long to fall in love with you Von.
When we met I told you I wasnt good at names so I decided to call you Von and you called me Cuz. This is hard to take because it seemed so sudden and we had made plans for you to come visit me soon. I thank God I was able to spend time with you this summer before your passing. I missed your official birthday party, but you were celebrating everyday, and you had more than one party. Now I know why. God wanted the best, for his best, and I know you are up there smiling that big old smile you had down on us. Rest on now Von in the arms of Jesus baby girl you will surely be missed.
