“ Your name came up out of the blue today and I said I was afraid to look you up... for this exact reason.

RIP Terry. I wish we could've met up and joked about how strange adult life is. I can't stand knowing you were still around, locally, and we didn't get to laugh at how things turned out.

I think you'd have lost your mind knowing that I've lived in the same old house again for the last, heck, more than a decade. You'd have come over. We'd have laughed.

Rest in Peace my friend. See ya when I see ya.

“ Terrance, so sad that you are gone. You really did had a very hard life. I'm still heartbroken that you are gone from earth. Praise the Lord that you are residing in heaven. Your mama and my baby son Jacob is in heaven. Until within time we will see all of our love ones and be together again!! Love you! Hug your mama and my baby Jacob for me!!
