“ I'm so sorry for your family's loss. Bubba is gone too soon, but he will be remembered. The Bible has a wonderful hope for the future. Isa. 25:8 says "He will swallow up death forever, And the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces." That sure promise will soon be fulfilled. Your family is in our thoughts.

“ I remember the day I met him . He was so blond a blond little angel. I had just miscarried my own pregnancy at 18 weeks. I really wanted to see him Betty let me come by. He was so tiny all i could do was kiss him and smile. All i could think is how lucky Red was that he was still here even if so tiny. Everytime i seen him for years with and without his family my friend Betty or even his mom like when i volunteered at his school he would kiss me and hug me . I wondered if he remembered those desperate kisses i gave him as a baby . I even joked he could be my baby with that white people hair. Red loves him so much she had my best friend Betty care for him at birth and the one comfort is knowing he has my Betty Mrs Morgan once again. Holding him . I love you Red the grief of a mother never ends. We will see them in heaven though I promise.

“ I will always remember that beautiful smile he had on his face. I can remember when he was younger, riding his bike and he use to stop by my Dad, Mr. Dodge Simmons house and say, "Mr. Dodge, will you help me put my chain on?". The next thing I know he and Dad sitting at the table drinking water and talking lot 2 men. My sympathy goes to you and your family.

“ I was standing on the West Orange football field right behind Janice and Karen on that Friday night in which Bubba and Semone first heard that they were the 2013 Homecoming King and Queen. The joy in his face...I will never, ever forget. Bubba brought life and joy to us all. Thank you, Lord, and thank you, Janice, for the gift of your son to us all.--Amy
